

ORGANETIK - this is how it works

What is ORGANETIK?

ORGANETIK is ORGANO's bioresonance method that can be used to search for energy blockages on the physical, subconscious and spiritual levels and to release them immediately.

ORGANETIK is also the name of the bioresonance device.

How are these energy blockages found?

We address the subconscious mind by querying it using the ORGANO Sensor, a one-handed rod or tensor. For example, we might ask the client's subconscious, "Is the energy state of the liver okay?" or on the spiritual level, "Are there any emotional burdens?" Nowadays there are many emotional burdens, such as fears, worries, grief etc., we also address traumatic fields.

ORGANO Sensor

We assume that everything is information and energy, even every cell of the body consists of energy. We not only query the mental state and the soul level, but also the physical level via the energy state: "Where can an energetic ballast have accumulated in the course of time, which the own self-healing could not handle?" We release this energetic ballast or blockage with our bioresonance device, the ORGANETIK.

For the querying, that is the communication with the subconscious, you do not need the ORGANETIK, only the Organo Sensor. If an energetic blockage is found and should be released, then the ORGANETIK comes into play.

With the ORGANETIK you can release and channel negative energy, but the focus is on releasing, because we want to release blockages. During the channeling you can channel e.g. homeopathic energies.

The ORGANETIK

The device, the ORGANETIK, is slightly larger than a cell phone and is significantly heavier. Inside there are 5 silicon storages. Two silicon storages for the releasing. These two silicon storages can be connected by a slider, thus activating the releasing.

If you move the slider to the right for channeling, the two silicon memories for transfer are activated. The fifth silicon storage in the center of the device is the resonance point.

The burdening energy that is released from the client is transformed into an energy that is optimally potentized individually, as in homeopathy, and is immediately returned.

This means that with every releasing a potentized counter-energy is generated, so the person can free him/herself even faster from this burdening energy.

The difference from ORGANETIK to all other methods is that we work completely without electricity and without digital aids such as PC or laptop.

ORGANETIK does not contain any prefabricated programs or so-called nosode sets, because everything is queried individually.

Energetic blockages, which are not released, can eventually cause diseases. That is why ORGANETIK can also be used as a prophylaxis.

Visualization of energetic burdens

Stage three could be stress and burnout

We like to visualize the energetic burdens as a backpack that fills up more and more in the course of life if it is not emptied. In our opinion, this cannot be done by treating the symptoms, but only by finding and energetically eliminating the cause.

Impact on well-being

There is a broad spectrum of factors that can influence our well-being and cause energy blockages:

- Emotions (e.g. fears, irritation, anger)
- Emotional trauma
- Stress
- Hormonal imbalances
- Environmental and radiation influences
- Poor diet
- Toxins
- Excess physical strain, injuries

Once the energy blockages are released, the body, mind, and spirit can return to their natural balance, leading to greater well-being.

ORGANETIK can be combined with every other treatment

ORGANETIK does not replace any medicine or treatment by a doctor. Please read more about this here

ORGANETIK at home

More than 5,000 trained Organeticians are already using the ORGANETIK bioresonance method. Among them are health-conscious individuals who utilize ORGANETIK for themselves and their families.

ORGANETIK in practices

Many therapists and doctors also use ORGANETIK in their practices. For 25 years now, health-conscious people as well as therapists have been taking our training courses.

The advantages of ORGANETIK

- Quickly find and release energy blockages
- Use with clients, family, friends, animals or yourself
- No previous therapeutic experience necessary
- Simple and fast to learn
- Therapists can expand their practice offerings
- Does not require electrical power or laptop compared to many other methods
- Energetic optimization of food
- Individualization of products from our Vital series
